Roxann Henry has practiced antitrust law for over 30 years and has handled all aspects of antitrust, including criminal defense, treble damage litigation and merger and non-merger investigations, including as lead counsel winning a rare corporate criminal antitrust jury acquittal.

Ms. Henry has appeared before federal and state courts, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), state attorneys general and a variety of overseas authorities, including the staff of the European Commission and Canadian Competition Bureau. Her experience spans a wide range of industries, including telecommunications, life sciences, aerospace and defense, healthcare, pharmaceuticals, construction, information and social networking technologies, mining, industrial and component products, transportation services, petroleum, specialty chemicals, financial services and food and consumer products.

Ms. Henry routinely represents clients in cartel investigations, coordinating worldwide defenses of multiple criminal, civil and administrative actions. Individuals, closely held companies and large corporate industry leaders in the U.S. and abroad have entrusted their defense to her, and, when necessary, she has vindicated clients as lead counsel at trial.

Ms. Henry won a rare corporate not-guilty jury verdict in a criminal antitrust trial and won the first court victory in over a decade against an FTC non-healthcare merger challenge. She has served as lead counsel in various complex civil commercial disputes related to competition issues, provided antitrust and trade practices counseling, compliance training and auditing, and handled merger antitrust clearance counseling. She drafted the amicus curiae brief of the American Bar Association to the Supreme Court in the Twombly case.

Ms. Henry is a past Chair of the Antitrust Section of the American Bar Association and has served as a Non-Governmental Advisor to the International Competition Network (ICN), an organization of more than 100 competition agencies from around the world addressing antitrust enforcement and policy issues.
